REPORT OF THE
SOUTH CAROLINA COMMISSIONERS to the Knoxville Convention, on the subject of the proposed Rail Road from Charleston to Cincinnati and Louisville.

The Commissioners appointed by the Legislature of South Carolina, to make an examination and survey of the country between the Ohio river and the City of Charleston, for the purpose of ascertaining the best practicable route for a Rail-Road, have the honor to submit to the CONVENTION now assembled at Knoxville, such information as they have been able to obtain. Aware that this convention would be composed of Delegates from all those portions of country most deeply interested in the proposed road, and that it would embrace such a combination of talent, character and information, as would enable its members to exert a powerful influence over the public mind, in reference to this great work, the undersigned have not hesitated to regulate the proceedings with a view to submit the results to this assembly. The Commissioners have, accordingly, repaired to Knoxville to meet the Convention, and have also directed their several Brigades of Engineers to assemble here, for the purpose of concentrating all the information they may have procured, to be laid before you.

In giving a brief history of our proceedings, we feel that it is due to ourselves, as well as to the Engineers, who have been industriously employed in making the explorations and surveys, to state, that we have been greatly embarrassed in our operations, by the shortness of the time which has been allowed us, and the extraordinary inclemency of the weather. Finding it impossible, under these circumstances, to do more than to make an examination and survey of a portion of the designated route, we did not hesitate to direct our attention exclusively to that section of country which presented the greatest difficulties—embracing the Mountain region—extending from the foot of the Blue Ridge east, to the western base of the Cumberland mountain—believing that if this portion of the route should be found to be practicable, the country below these lines—and extending on one side to the Atlantic, and on the other to the Ohio—might be said to be consigned to us.

It will doubtless be recollected by the Convention, that, at a public meeting held at Cincinnati, in August last, it was proposed to connect that City with Charleston, by a Rail-Road, and an able Report was published, showing the practicability of the scheme, and the great advantages that would result from its accomplishment. A printed copy of these proceedings having been transmitted to Charleston, the liveliest interest was excited among her citizens, who had long looked to such a connexion with the West, as an event greatly to be desired. It was peculiarly acceptable to them, that the proposition should have come from the quarter whence it now emanated, and they felt it to be their duty to respond to the appeal thus made by Ohio, in a spirit which should leave no doubt of the disposition of SOUTH CAROLINA, to unite most cordially with their western brethren in bringing about so desirable a result. A public meeting of the citizens of Charleston was accordingly held, and resolutions were unanimously adopted, pledging their zealous co-operation in the great work. In fulfillment of this pledge the City Council immediately appropriated $5000, out of the City Treasury, and put the same at the disposal of a committee, charged with "causing such explorations or surveys to be made, as may be deemed necessary, in order to determine the practicality, cost, and proper route of the proposed road." This committee, acting in conjunction with a similar committee appointed in Columbia, the capital of the State—took the promptest measures to carry into effect the views of their fellow-citizens. It was accordingly determined, to apply to the Legislatures of the States through which a road from Charleston to Cincinnati must necessarily pass, for a CARTER—and for such appropriations as might cover the expenses of the surveys. In the mean time, and in order to afford to the Legislatures of those States such information as might induce them to comply with these requests, a Board of Engineers was constituted—consisting of Cols. Gadsden and Brisbane and Mr. Hines—gentlemen eminently qualified for the task—who were charged in behalf of the citizens of Charleston, with making an exploration of the several passes through the Blue Ridge, and across the intermediate country to the foot of the Cumberland mountain, in Kentucky, in the general direction of the proposed road from Cincinnati to Charleston, so as to lay their report before the Legislature of South Carolina, at their annual meeting in December. Agents were also appointed to attend the Legislatures of North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky, to make such explanations as might be required, and if possible to obtain charters from each of the said States, identical, in all their provisions.

In the prosecution of the duties thus imposed upon them, Col. Gadsden and his party entered promptly and zealously upon the explorations required, and embodied in a luminous report the result of their examinations, the substance of which was communicated in due season to the Legislatures of the several States interested therein. From this report, which will be found to contain a mass of valuable information, such extracts are hereto annexed, as bear more immediately on the questions now before the Convention. Our Agents who attended the Legislatures of North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky, succeeded in obtaining charters from those States; but as the charters in the two latter States, vary in several particulars from those passed by North and South Carolina, it has been deemed advisable to cause the original charter, as passed by South Carolina, to be printed, with the several amendments made there to by the other States, so that the Convention may be able to decide whether any alterations have been made therein, or any restrictions or limitations imposed, which may render further amendments necessary.

The Legislature of South Carolina, in addition to the charter above mentioned, also passed an act to cause surveys to be made for a Rail Road between Cincinnati and Charleston, appropriated $10,000 for that purpose, and appointed the undersigned Commissioners to carry the same into effect. This act contemplated the passage of similar acts by the Legislatures of North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky, according to which the South Carolina Commissioners to unite with those of the said States in causing the proper surveys to be made. In consequence, however, of the failure of those States to pass such acts, the undersigned have been compelled to assume the whole duty, which was intended to have been performed in conjunction with the Commissioners of the other States. If Commissioners had been appointed, and appropriations made by these States, surveys might have been commenced simultaneously in North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky, and the Convention might thus have been put in possession of an actual survey of the whole route.—Necessarily restricted in our operations, we have made, however, the utmost possible exertions to put the Convention in possession of such information as may enable them to act efficiently on this subject. On an application made to the Secretary of War, that officer was pleased to suffer Capt. W. G. Williams, of the Topographical Engineers, Lieut. Drayton, White and Reed, of the army, and Mr. G. F. Featherstonehaugh, of the Civil Engineers, to enter into the service of the Commissioners for the purpose of making under their direction, the above mentioned surveys. These gentlemen being organized into two Brigades, under the orders of Capt. Williams, have been engaged since the middle of April last, in surveying the passes leading from the head waters of the Broad and Saluda Rivers in South Carolina, across the Blue Ridge, into the valley of the French Broad River, and from thence down that valley to a point from whence a suitable route for a Rail Road could be marked out, across the Cumberland Mountain into Kentucky. The Commissioners felt themselves restrained by the shortness of the time, and the small amount of the appropriation, from extending their surveys further than to the several passes leading into the valley of the French Broad River, a restriction to which they were the more reconciled from the fact that any route to the North or South of that valley, would trespass upon the territory of Virginia or Georgia, from neither of which States have charters been obtained. It cannot be doubted that there is no route within the limits of the existing charter, by which a Rail Road can be carried across the Blue Ridge, that must not pass along the valley of the French Broad river; and the Commissioners are under a full conviction that this valley affords, by far, the best channel of communication, between the Ohio River and the Atlantic Ocean. This opinion is founded upon some personal observation, extensive enquiries, and explorations and surveys of the several routes which have been suggested. Public attention having been several times called to a route extending from the Linville Mountain in North Carolina through Virginia, across the Moccasin Gap to the Ohio, by the valley of the Licking or Big Sandy Rivers in Kentucky.—Mr. Holmes was despatched in November last by the Charleston Committee to examine that route, and from the information obtained by him, as well as from an actual survey made by Col. Long, of the United States Topographical Engineers in 1831, the Engineers unanimously pronounced that route to be inadmissible. From a careful explanation made by Capt. Williams, of the mountain range within the limits of South Carolina, there does not appear in the opinion of that officer to be any practicable route for a Rail Road south of the Saluda Mountain. A route, however, has been suggested, across the Babun Gap in Georgia, which the Governor of that State has been directed by their Legislature to cause to be surveyed, and it is understood that the Engineer of the Athens Rail Road Company has also been employed in examining a line from Athens across that Gap. For the reasons above mentioned, the Commissioners did not feel themselves called upon to survey any route not embraced within the lines covered by their charter, and even if not restrained by this consideration, had neither time nor means to extend their surveys beyond the limits of their own State, and a line drawn from thence across the Cumberland Mountain, by the valley of the French Broad, and looking to the connection of Cincinnati and Louisville with Charleston. In consequence, however, of the surveys directed by Georgia of the Gap, through Rabun, they deemed it advisable to obtain all the information on the subject in their power. With this view, Col. Brisbane and Richard W. Colcock, Esq. have been recently sent to make a survey of that part of Pickens District, in South Carolina, adjoining Rabun county, in Georgia, with instructions to pass by the Rabun Gap, down the valley of the Little Tennessee, to some point below the Smoky Mountains, and from thence to Knoxville, where it is expected that they will arrive in a few days.

The Report of Capt. Williams, with the surveys made by the two Brigades of Engineers under his orders, will be laid before the Convention, so soon as the same can be prepared, and will afford all the additional information on this subject, which it will be in the power of the Commissioners to afford.

It will be for the Convention to determine, on full deliberation, after all the necessary information shall have been laid before them, whether a practicable route for a Rail Road has been found from the Ohio River to the Atlantic Ocean, to connect Louisville and Cincinnati with Charleston; whether such a work can be constructed at a reasonable expense; whether the advantages to arise from it will justify the efforts necessary for its execution; and, finally, what are the proper means to be adopted for combining the resources of all the States interested therein, in one simultaneous and mighty effort for its speedy accomplishment. In an undertaking of such vast magnitude, intended to constitute a connecting link between six or eight States, it will be utterly vain and idle to expect success, unless the great work be entered upon in a spirit corresponding with the grandeur of the enterprise.

Animated by such a spirit, this Convention may give an impulse to this work—certainly one of the noblest that has been projected in modern times—that may ensure its success.

The Commissioners will most cordially co-operate with the Convention in all measures, calculated to advance the great object which has brought us together, and for this purpose will be ready to afford such information as may be required of them.

SKETCHES OF SANTA ANNA.
 Some particulars of this personage, which we have derived from gentlemen intimately acquainted with him, may be interesting to the public.

Santa Anna is about 42 years of age, and was born in the city of Vera Cruz. His father was a Spaniard of old Spain, of respectable standing, though poor; his mother was a Mexican. He received a common education, and at the age of 13 or 14 was taken into the military family of the then Lieutenant of Vera Cruz, Gen. Davilla, who took a great fancy to him and brought him up. He remained with Gen. D. until about the year 1820. While with Davilla he was made a Major, and when installed he took the honors very coolly, and on some of his friends congratulating him, he said, "Si mi hieira Dios quisiera estar algo mas." [If you were to make me a god, I should desire to be something greater.] This trait developed at so early a period of his life, indicated the existence of that vaunting ambition which has ever since characterized his life.

After serving the Spanish Royal cause until 1821, he left Vera Cruz, turned against his old master and benefactor, and placed himself at the head of some irregular troops which he had raised on the sea coast, near Vera Cruz, and which are called Jarochos in their language, and which were denominated by him Cossacks, as they are all mounted and armed with spears. With this rade cavalry he besieged Vera Cruz, drove Davilla into the castle of San Juan d'Ulloa, and after having been repulsed, again entered at a subsequent period, and got entire possession of the city, expelling therefrom the old Spanish troops, and reducing the power of the mother country in Mexico to the walls of the castle.

Subsequent to this, Davilla is said to have obtained an interview with Santa Anna, and told him he was destined to act a prominent part in the history of his country, and now, says he, I will give you some advice: "Siempre vayas con los muchos" [always go with the strong party.] He always acted up to this motto until he raised the grito (or cry) in other words took up the arms for the friars and church. He then overthrew the federal government and established a central despotism, of which the priests and the military were the two privileged orders. His life has been from the first of the most romantic kind, constantly in revolutions, constantly victorious, until the last fatal encounter.

His manners are extremely affable; he is full of anecdote and humor, and makes himself exceedingly fascinating and agreeable to all who come into his company; he is about five feet 10, rather spare, has a moderately high forehead, with black hair, short black whiskers, mustaches, and an eye large, black and expressive of a lurking devil in his look; he is a man of gentle and dignified deportment, but of a disposition perfectly heartless; but has never evinced a savageness of character except in the massacres in which he has been implicated in Texas. He married a Spanish lady of property, a native of Alvarado, and through that marriage obtained the first part of his estate called Manga de Clavo, 6 leagues from Vera Cruz. He has three fine children, yet quite young.

The following striking anecdote of Santa Anna illustrates his peculiar quickness and management: During the revolution of 1829, while he was shut up in Oaxaca, and surrounded by the government troops and reduced to the utmost straits for the want of money and provisions, having a very small force, there had been in consequence of the siege and firing every day through the streets, no mass for several weeks. He had no money, and hit upon the following expedient to get it, he took possession of the wardrobe of the friars, dressed his officers and some of the soldiers in it, and early in the morning had the bells rung for mass. People delighted at having again an opportunity of adoring the Supreme Being, flocked to the church where he was, and after the house was pretty well filled, his Friars showed their side arms and bayonets from beneath their cowls and closed the doors upon the assembled multitude. At this unexpected denouement there was a tremendous shrieking, when one of his officers ascended the pulpit and told the people that he wanted $10,000 and must have it. He finally succeeded in getting about $3500, when he dismissed the congregation.

As a sample of Santa Anna's pious whims, we relate the following:

In the same campaign of Oaxaca, Santa Anna and his officers were then besieged by Rincon, who commanded the government troops. Santa Anna was in a convent surrounded by a small breast work. Some of the officers one night to amuse themselves, took the wooden saints out of the church and placed them as centries, dressed in uniforms, on the breastwork. Rincon alarmed at this apparition of boldness, began to fire away at the wooden images, supposing them to be flesh and blood, and it was not until after some of the officers who were not in the secret had implored Santa Anna to prevent this desecration that the firing ceased.

Many similar acts are related of Santa Anna. We have not room at present to say more than there is no man who has filled the space he has, that is so little understood. In short, he is all things to all men.—N. Y. Star.

From the New York Times.
LATEST FROM EUROPE.

By the North America, Captain Dixey, from Liverpool, we have intelligence to the first of June.

The Parliament have resumed its sittings, but Lord Melbourne had not made his appearance since the late affair with Mrs. Norton.

The Duke of Gordon, Lord Lieutenant of Aberdeenshire and Governor of Edinburgh Castle, died on the 25th of May, in the 68th year of his age.

On the 30th of May, Lord Stanley gave notice in the House of Commons, that he should bring in a project for the better management of ecclesiastical property, and for converting tythes into a rent charge.

Spain.—There had been a good deal of excitement at the capital, in consequence of the dismissal of Mendizabal and his ministry. A dissolution of the Cortes is anticipated.

On the arrival at Saragossa of the resignation of M. Mendizabal and his colleagues, the National Guard of that place met, and resolved on deputing two of their body to Madrid, there to concert with the representatives of the province on the most proper mode of addressing a representation to the Regent on the expediency of reinstating the Mendizabal Ministry, of dismissing Generals Cordova, Quesada, San Roman, and others; and of suppressing the Council of Regency.

It was further resolved, that a correspondence should be immediately opened with the National Guards of Catalonia and Valencia, for the purpose of preparing to march on Madrid should the Regent "persist in being led by the contents of the Camorra."

There have been no decided military movements since our last accounts. The following are the members of the new ministry:—Isturitz, President of the Council and Minister of Foreign Affairs; General Somoza, Minister of War; Aguirre Salazar, now Ambassador to France, Minister of Finance; Galiano, Minister of the Marine; the Duke de Rivas, Minister of the Interior.

LONDON, May 25.—The meeting at the Dublin Corn Exchange on Saturday was far more numerously attended than any which has been held for the purpose of protesting against the new measures of injustice meditated against Ireland.—Long and eloquent speeches were on the occasion delivered by Mr. Grantan, Mr. Stiel, and other distinguished Reformers.

A resolution denouncing the bill sent down to the Commons by the Lords, and a petition for a real reform in corporations were unanimously adopted. Mr. Henry Grantan, M. P., was subsequently called to the chair, and the meeting adjourned.

We have seen letters from Madrid to a late hour of the 17th. They represent the ferment in the capital as continually increasing and assuming a most alarming attitude. M. Isturitz has been for a considerable time closeted with the Queen, and rumors were circulated amongst the best informed circles, and met with considerable credit, that the decree for the dissolution of the Cortes had been signed. Accounts from the army were looked for with the greatest anxiety; the consequence of the stoppage of all supplies to that quarter were contemplated with dismay.

The new ministers are most unpopular out of doors. So strong was the public feeling against them, that on the evening of the 16th a patrol was required to escort them home in safety. In the course of the night a mob attacked the house of Galiano, the windows of which they totally demolished; and they would as certainly have murdered the owner, had he fallen into their hands.

The credit of the new cabinet is on a par with its popularity. Mendizabal had contracted a loan of thirty millions of reals with the house of Arduin, of Paris. An agent was sent to pay the money to the President of the Council in Madrid, on the 14th inst. On that day Mendizabal was dismissed, and a successor appointed. Isturitz, being in want of ten millions of reals, applied for it in the name of the Government, and though the money was payable to Mendizabal as a minister of the crown, it was refused to his successor, the new President of the Council. This mortifying incident was noticed to the Procuradores in the sitting of the 16th, without a syllable of condemnation of the conduct of the Bayonne agent.

From the Globe.

Letters have been received in the city from the Spanish capital on the 18th inst. with intelligence that the Queen had expressed her determination to support M. Isturitz, and with this view had had a conference with the Premier to discuss the policy of a dissolution of the Chamber, which it is said had been actually decided upon.

The French Chamber of Deputies was engaged in discussing the question of slavery in the French colonies.

EUROPEAN CONGRESS.—A letter from Meniz states that preparations are making by Prince Metternich, for a great European Congress, to be held at Johannesburg, in August or September, in which all the great powers are to be represented. The treaties of Vienna having been in several respects annulled by circumstances, by the events in France and Belgium, by the abolition of the constitution of Poland, by interventions of all kinds, it will be considered whether fresh stipulations should not be entered into, in harmony with the present state of Europe, and which should be at once acknowledged and signed by all the powers. Galiano says: "We give very slight credence to the contents of this letter."

Paris papers are to the 30th; but they are all too censored of news and of interest. The Messenger in reference to the report respecting a new Congress, gives the following as the probable origin of the rumour:

"It is affirmed that M. Thiers intends to make a tour in the banks of the Rhine after the close of the session. He may there meet with some great personages in the course of the summer. The emperor Nicholas will come to Eins for the empress, who is going to that place for the benefit of the waters. The king of Prussia is expected in his Rhinish provinces. Lastly, Prince Metternich is said to intend paying his annual visit to his fine estate of Johannesburg."

GREY.—Letters from Athens was to the 12th of April. The affairs of the kingdom were improving. The king of Bavaria has returned from his visit to his son, King Otto.

Money Market and City Intelligence. Monday Evening.—The feeling in the city on Spanish affairs was of a mixed and contradictory nature. The desperate step taken by the new ministry, in dissolving the Cortes, secured a death-blow to the career of the government in this place, and the prices of their securities were declining rapidly, without apparent stop, except the total want of purchasers, when the express arrived with the intelligence of a victory over the Carlists by Cordova. This was held to be important beyond the mere event of the victory, in having put an end to all doubts respecting the good faith of Gen. Cordova, and therefore it counterbalanced ed in some degree the news from Madrid. Still the situation of affairs is looked upon with views sufficiently gloomy by all who have any stake in the issue, and no one can imagine in what manner the wants of the government are to be supplied, the treasury at Madrid being in so notoriously exhausted a state, in the interval between the convocation and the meeting of a new Cortes.

To carry on a negotiation for a loan, which had been opened by Mendizabal, under such circumstances, is out of the question. At the same time, the step taken by the Queen in dissolving the Cortes, were she even to repent of it, cannot be recalled, unless under such a sacrifice of honor and dignity as she cannot be expected to submit to. Though the victory of Cordova, therefore, has induced a little better feeling of confidence, it can be but temporary, and all reflecting persons are looking to the progress of Spanish affairs with the utmost disquietude and anxiety.

The state of continues satisfactory.—It is not abundant, but is obtainable on fair terms and on good security to any extent that may be desired. The sudden rally in the American exchanges is held to be a good symptom, as it now makes it a doubtful speculation to export gold to New York, and the merchants will be less disposed to engage in such operations when they perceive the uncertain state of the market and how quickly it may be turned against them.

The Consul market has been quite steady. The last quotation were 91 5/8 to 3-4 for money, 91 7-8 to 92 for the account; Exchange bills, 12s. to 14s. premium.

The extreme depression of Spanish active stock was 38 1-2, and on the rebound it reached 40 1-4, but left off at 39 3-4 to 40. But for some unexpected assistance which the market received in the early part of the day, from some parties whose largains are seldom judiciously made, there must have occurred a far greater decline. As it is, the market is far from strong. Portuguese 5 per cents. left off at 84.

TRANSYLVANIA UNIVERSITY, MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

The Lectures in this Institution will commence, as usual, on the first Monday in November, and terminate on the first Monday of March. The courses are on Anatomy and Surgery, by Doctor DUNLEY; Institutes of Medicine, Clinical Practice, and Medical Jurisprudence, by Doctor CALDWELL; Theory and Practice of Medicine, by Doctor COCKE; Obstetrics and the diseases of women and children, by Doctor RICHARDSON; Materia Medica and Medical Botany, by Doctor SHORT; Chemistry and Pharmacy, by Doctor YANDELL.

During the entire term the Professor of Anatomy and Surgery lectures four times each week, and the other Professors daily, except on holidays. The fee to the entire course, with matriculation and use of an extensive library, is $110. The graduation fee is $20.

It is right proper to state, inasmuch as reports have been current as the high price of board in Lexington and the difficulty of obtaining it, that many students, during the last session, found comfortable board, including lodging, fuel, lights, servants' attendance, and in some instances washing, for $3.00 per week, and it is confidently believed, notwithstanding the increased price of every article of living, which is felt here in common with all other parts of the country, that students will be as comfortably accommodated, and upon as reasonable terms, as at any other respectable Medical School in the Union.

Stimulating Liniment No. 1.
 AN IMPROVEMENT OF JEWETT'S STIMULATING LINIMENT, NO. 2.

Manufactured and sold by M. L. Lewis, wholesale and retail.
 THIS LINIMENT is celebrated for its soothing and stimulating qualities, to those who are in pain. It has a decided advantage over all other Liniments known, as it is not so volatile; there is a body to it which keeps the articles of stimulant from escaping from the system, and when the absorbent vessels take up the substance of the Liniment, it puts the system into action, and then the cooling, throes off, and perspiration makes its appearance.

The following certificate will show to the reader, what has been done with the above article, towards relieving those who have used it, who were sorely afflicted with pain.

We, the undersigned, having used Dr. Lewis' Liniment, believe it to be as good as is recommended.

IN JESSAMINE.
Capt. GEO. N. FAULCONER.

The Secretary of War, has, we understand, made a call upon the Governor of Kentucky for one hundred volunteers, to be sent immediately to the army of General Gaines, on the borders of Texas. To prevent difficulty, in the selection of the volunteers, we learn the Governor has determined to accept the first thousand who tender their services. It is said there are many volunteers already enrolled in Frankfort, among whom is Albert G. Hodges, Esq. one of the proprietors of the Commonwealth.

The troops are to be mounted gun-men—to serve six months, and to rendezvous at Frankfort the 17th August.

We learn by a gentleman who arrived here on Saturday that the Whig Convention at Staunton, Va., declined nominating General HARRISON, but elected to their first love, Judge WHITE. How will the Kentucky Whigs relish this obnoxious?

We had intended to have copied from the Observer and Reporter, an interesting letter from General Combs, (one of the Fayette delegates to the Knoxville Convention,) to the Editors of that paper, but the Report of the South Carolina Commissioners, prepared before the publication of that letter, necessarily excludes it this day.

It is expected that Cunningham and his pamphlets have been bought up by the friends of Judge White, and that the curtain will not be raised, as promised.

The Louisville Advertiser informs us, that at the GREAT Convention of Young Whigs in that city on Friday last, there were delegates from Jefferson and Franklin only; and that the Convention adjourned to meet at Harrodsburg on the 15th August.

There are insinuations of disappointment by the Confectioners, who had calculated on large sales of sugar candy.

Judge Hickey has decided on the petition from the Mail Contractor, for a Mandamus to permit the Mail to pass on the Turnpike road, free of toll, in favor of the Turnpike Company. We shall endeavor to give the Judge's opinion at large.

The Judge has also decided that Turnbull, now confined in jail on a charge for the murder of Logan, is entitled to bail.

The report that Midshipman Sherburne had been stricken from the Roll, seems to have been premature, if not totally untrue. A communication from his father to the Editor of the Baltimore Chronicle, says, "on reading the notice, I immediately called on the President, and stated to him the remark in the Chronicle. He replied, that it was not true, and that I had his authority for saying it; and also, that no complaint had been made to him on the painful subject. I will also take the liberty to remark, that my son, (who is of mature age,) was the challenged party, and endeavored, as far as an officer and gentleman could do, to avoid the painful meeting."

Joseph Bonaparte sailed from New York for London on the 24th instant, and it is not expected he will return to the United States.

TEXAS, by Mrs. M. Austin HOLLEY, has just issued from the Lexington Press, and is for sale by the publishers, Messrs. Clarke and Bryant, and at the book stores. The work is comprised in a volume of upwards of 400 pages, and is sold at the moderate price of $1.50. We have not yet had an opportunity of reading the book; but those who have, represent it as comprising a mass of satisfactory and truly interesting intelligence in regard to that portion of the North American Continent—and from the opinion of those on whom we can rely, we commend it to the reading public, and particularly those whose eyes are directed towards Texas.

The Kentucky Association Stock Fair, will be held at the "Association Ground," on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, the 5th, 6th, and 7th September. Cattle will be shown on the first day, Horses on the second, and Jacks, Jennies and Mules on the third.

There is a report in town, based on a letter from New Orleans, that Santa Anna had been tried by a Court Martial and shot.—Louis Ad.

From the Paris Citizen, we learn that an outrage was committed upon the person of Judge Brown at Carlisle, in the county of Nicholas. From that respectable print, we little expected any palatation of an outrage such as described. A Judge is sworn to give his judgment according to law and evidence;—and the rules of evidence are prescribed for him in the books in such terms, that no lawyer can fail to comprehend them; whilst those unacquainted with those rules and having no legal responsibility, or the conscientiousness of office, may come to an honest conclusion, entirely different from that of the legal Judge. We have known a Jury intimidated by popular clamor; but this is the first attempt of that kind, recollected in our country, where the independence of a Judge has been thus assailed,—and we trust it will be the last.

From the Western Citizen, of July 15.

TRIAL OF BOYD.

LYNCHING RUE JUDGE.

During the July term of Nicholas Circuit Court, at Carlisle, Wm. Boyd was tried for the murder of Mr. Smith. The Jury found him guilty of manslaughter, and awarded as his punishment, confinement in the Penitentiary for three years and two months. Motion was made for a new trial, upon the grounds that the verdict was against law and evidence and the discovery of new testimony.—This Judge Brown granted on Saturday last, and admitted the prisoner to bail.

The populace were so enraged at the Judge for this outrage of all law and justice as they esteemed it, that they fired the fire engine, placed it at the court house door, and gave him a handsome ducking, as he passed out after Court adjourned. They likewise hung and burnt him the next morning in effigy.—When the Judge left Carlisle, they insisted the black flag and tilled the bells.

We do not justify this attack upon the person of Judge Brown; but if the statements which we have heard, in relation to the trial, &c. be true, and we have no right to doubt them, they most unquestionably furnish some palliation for the treatment which the Judge received at the hands of the people of Nicholas. We give the people of Nicholas great credit, however, for this modification of Judge Lynch's code. It evinces much humanity, and in its tendency, is as likely to produce the end designed, as the more severe inflictions of "Lynch law."

We had nearly forgotten to remark that the Commonwealth's Attorney, who was walking arm and arm with the Judge, was also sprinkled with navy-water, but he consoled himself by facetiously remarking, that his misfortune resulted alone from keeping bad company.

Cumberland Presbyterian Extra. IMPORTANT FROM TEXAS.

The following letter from General Houston was handed to us by Rev. Mr. Bacon the bearer, who left St. Augustine on the 2nd of July.

Near Sabine, July 2, 1836.

To Gen. Dunlap,
Sir—Your favor of 3d June reached me last night. I regret that so much delay will necessarily result before you can reach us—we will need your aid, and that speedily, the enemy in large numbers are reported to be in Texas; their force is estimated at from 8000 to 12,000. It is impossible to ascertain it but I think it somewhat exaggerated. We can meet and beat them with one third their numbers. The army with which they first entered Texas is broken up and dispersed by desertion and other causes. If they get an army of the extent proposed, it must be composed of new recruits, and men pressed into service. They will not possess the mechanical efficiency of discipline which gives the Mexican troops the only character they have—they will be easily routed by a very inferior force; for a portion of that force we are compelled to look to the United States, it cannot reach us too soon.—There is but one feeling in Texas in my opinion, and that is to establish the independence of Texas, and to be attached to the United States.—The war has assumed a most desperate aspect: priestcraft and fanaticism have been united against all liberal principles—to establish and maintain them it is necessary that despotism should be created.—The God of battles will crush it, liberal principles must triumph and Texas must be free.—Much as I am pressed as possible with all the aid you can bring, and I doubt not but that you will be gratified with your reception and situation. Come by the most expeditious route and do not enumber yourselves with baggage, bring with you arms, and forward such aid to Texas as you can. The troops who were driven from Texas I understand refuse to return under any circumstances. They returned home miserable, naked and dispirited. For minute particulars of our situation and much important intelligence, I refer you to Mr. Bacon, the bearer of this who has been actively engaged in the cause of Texas.—The path to fame and wealth in Texas is open to the patriot and chivalrous.

I am your obedient servant,
SAMUEL HOUSTON,
Commander in Chief.

Gen. R. G. DUNLAP.
N. B. Mr. Bacon has started from this to Athens, expecting there to meet General Dunlap, if this should meet the General's eye and he has returned to Knoxville, it is Mr. Bacon's request that he meet him at Athens where he will remain for a few days.

THEATRE.—Mrs. A. Drake's Benefit, and with it will close at least for a time, her performances in our city. We therefore anticipate for her a full and fashionable house. The play (Fazio) which is chosen for her benefit, is of itself sufficient to attract a tasteful and admiring audience; but more particularly pleasing will be the Night's Entertainment in witnessing her personification of Bianca. In this character she evinces herself. Ye admirers of genius—of poetry—of eloquence, and of grace, declare by your presence this evening, that you can and do appreciate the unrivalled acting of this superior lady.—let us go en masse. J.

The Washington City Sun, Judge White's luminary has gone down, and "shadows, clouds and darkness" rest upon it. We shall not be surprised if Van Buren is left in the field without a competitor when the election day arrives. Harrison is hid under an enormous petticoat, Clay swears he will go to Ashland, Dave Crockett is dead, Jack Downing ditto, Webster looking pale black, and now the Sun, which was so light Judge White to the White House, has been snuffed out! We do pity the poor Whigs—every thing they take hold of corrupts at their touch.

York Gazette.

The "Sun" which supported the claims of Judge White to the Presidency, has been discontinued. We find the following advertisement relative to it, in the Washington Globe:

TO ALL PUBLIC AND POLITICAL MEN!

The Sun, established in this city, some time since, for an especial purpose, has ceased to exist. Its general rays over the political world, and itself having been engaged in that establishment, having been thrown out of employ by the melancholy failure, and having in vain appealed to its friends, who had pledged themselves to sustain the paper by "specific contributions," to pay the amount that is due, that my family might live in the city, it becomes necessary to make such exposition of the whole concern, and PARTY, as will leave no doubt upon the public mind "as to our integrity."—The undersigned will, therefore, early next week, lay before the public a pamphlet, half serious, half comic, and all truth, entitled—

"The Rise, Progress and Downfall of that Great Political Luminary, the SUN—with Notes, Annotations, and Sketches of Character of some of the Great Men who have contributed specifically to its powerful rays." Price, two dollars per hundred.

Subscription papers will be circulated in both Houses of Congress on Monday next, that we may know what edition to work off; we are prepared to issue one hundred thousand copies, and can increase the number any amount. The curiosity and originality of this work, and the object for writing it, will no doubt create a great sale. The curtain will be raised high enough to expose all party machines attached to the Sun and some strange developments of how great men are sometimes made.

A. F. CUNNINGHAM.

Extract of a letter to the Postmaster of this city, dated

COLUMBUS, June 27, 1836.

"It is generally believed that the war is at an end, so far as fighting is concerned. Jan Henry's party have nearly all been taken; he has escaped himself—they are all confined at Fort Mitchell. The Smiths were all at work on my arrival, making handcuffs for the prisoners. It is believed that they will be sent immediately to the west, except the chiefs, five or six in number will be punished with death. They have not yet determined what course to pursue with them. The army are all at this time in motion. Nothing but bullets, at this time, prevents the mail from running through."

A gentleman arrived yesterday in the Florida line of stages reports, that about 33 miles from Cambridge, on the west side of Flint river, a scouting party of 30 men came across a young lady by the name of Jones, who was shot in the breast. She stated that her father was attacked on Sunday morning last by about 300 Indians, who killed all (thirteen in number) except herself an father, who made his escape. When shot, she feigned dead until the Indians left; when she got up and saw the mangled bodies of her mother, brothers and sisters, lying on the ground unscathed.

We give the above as we got it, but cannot vouch for its authenticity. The gentleman who gives us the information stated that he was acquainted with the Captain of the scouting party, from whom he got the information, and he believes what is stated above is true. We hope not. We were shown yesterday a letter from the same quarter, dated the 12th inst., which stated that an express had just arrived with information that two thousand Creek had crossed Flint river, and were making for Florida, destroying every thing in their path, and murdering every one they came across, and that the people were very much alarmed. This was on the 12th of last month, and since that time we have heard no more about the Indians from that quarter. We mention this to put those at a distance on their guard. The horrid butchery noticed above is but a report, and we sincerely hope may prove such an one as daily reaches our ears, without the least foundation.—Constitut.

AGREEMENT BETWEEN SANTA ANNA AND THE TEXIAN GOVERNMENT.

Articles of agreement entered into between his Excellency David G. Burnett, President of the Republic of Texas, of the one part, and his Excellency General Santa Anna, President General in chief of the Mexican army, of the other part:

ARTICLE 1st. General Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna agrees, that he will not take up arms, nor will he exercise his influence to cause them to be taken up against the people of Texas during the present war of independence.

ARTICLE 2d. All hostilities between the Mexican and Texian troops will cease immediately, both by land and water.

ARTICLE 3d. The Mexican troops will evacuate the territory of Texas, passing to the other side of the Rio Grande del Norte.

ARTICLE 4th. The Mexican army in its retreat shall not take the property of any person, without his consent and just indemnification, using only such articles as may be necessary for its subsistence, in cases when the owner may not be present, and returning to the commander of Texas, or to the commissioners in appointed for the adjustment of such matters, an account of the value of the property consumed, the place where taken, and the name of the owner if it can be ascertained.

ARTICLE 5th. That all private property, including cattle, horses, negro slaves, or indentured persons of whatever denomination, that may have been captured by any portion of the Mexican army, or may have taken refuge in the said army, since the commencement of the late invasion, shall be restored to the commander of the Texian army, or to such other persons as may be appointed by the Government of Texas to receive them.

ARTICLE 6th. The troops of both armies will refrain from coming in contact with each other, and to this end the commander of the army of Texas will be careful not to approach within a shorter distance than five leagues.

ARTICLE 7th. The Mexican army shall not make any other delay on its march than that which is necessary to take up their hospitals, baggage, &c. and to cross the rivers; any delay not necessary to these purposes to be considered an infraction of this agreement.

ARTICLE 8th. By an express to be immediately despatched, this agreement shall be sent to General Vincente Filisola, and to General T. J. Rusk, commander of the Texian army, in order that they may be apprised of its stipulations—and to this end they will exchange engagements to comply with the same.

ARTICLE 9th. That the Texian prisoners now in the possession of the Mexican army or its authorities be forthwith released and furnished with free passports to return to their homes, in consideration of which a corresponding number of Mexican prisoners, rank and file, now in possession of the Government of Texas shall be immediately released. The remainder of the Mexican prisoners that continue in possession of the Government of Texas to be treated with due humanity, any extraordinary comforts that may be furnished them, to be at the charge of the Government of Mexico.

ARTICLE 10th. General Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna will be sent to Vera Cruz as soon as it shall be deemed proper.

The contracting parties sign this instrument for the above mentioned purposes, in duplicate, at the Port of Velasco, this 14th day of May, 1836.

EXPEDITION IN FAVOR OF MEXICO.
We are informed that a report was current in Matamoros that two private armed English vessels were fitting out at Matamoros to assist the Mexicans in subjugating the Texans.

This may or may not be true, although the visit of complaisance made by the British Minister to the acting President of Mexico, on learning that "unlawful" event, the capture of Santa Anna, gives some color to the report.

England will not act openly in this business, but covertly she may encourage her people in fitting out expeditions against Texas. The Sovereigns of Europe will look upon an extension of American principles with a jealous eye.—American volunteers for Texas will find little sympathy from any quarter, except in the bosoms of their own countrymen; and if we may judge from the feelings which pervade every genuine American heart, any interference on the part of the British, adverse to the Texans, will bring about consequences so serious that no one can now venture to predict them.

George Canning, a man of great intellect and grasp of thought, when Prime Minister of England, foretold that mankind was hastening to an era when the "war of opinion" would commence. If we were to judge from the efforts, however unsuccessful, made by the most enlightened people in Europe since his time, and the progress of events in this hemisphere, we should say the prediction of that statesman has been already verified. Most fervently do we hope that men like unto our Washington, Jefferson, and Jackson will be found "to ride in the whirlwind and direct the storm."—Id.

From the New Orleans Bee.

TAMPICO, June 11, 1836.

Sir: Since my last we have had squally times here; we have all been threatened with our lives, and I assure you, have had to keep a good look out. The port has been embargoed for some time, and no communication was allowed to the United States schooner Grampus and sloop of war Warren, which were outside the bar. The Consul was only allowed to correspond by an open letter, passing through the military commandant's hands, which he refused to do with the above vessels, though he did so with the Jefferson. Capt. Taylor made his escape in the night, in an open boat, and got on board the Jefferson, and no doubt told them all the news; and as he left some days since for Pensacola, you have, no doubt, had it all in the New Orleans papers, or will ere this reach you. The Mexicans here say they are going to declare war against the United States for having assisted the Texans; they swear they will invade New Orleans by sea and land, and give the town up to plunder; and in thirty days a Mexican flag shall be hoisted by them on the Capitol at Washington city. What do you think of all this stuff?—all I fear is, that they are not quite fools enough to attempt it.

They talk of sending from twelve to fifteen thousand men to Texas. God only knows where they are to get them, or the money to defray the expenses,—the Government press is very bitter against the United States, but particularly against New Orleans. I enclose you a newspaper containing one of various articles, all of the same stamp. If the Texans do not shoot Santa Anna, he will be sure to make his escape in some manner or other, and they will then have all to go over again. The Government here have offered a reward to any person or persons, be they Mexicans or foreigners, who shall procure his release—while he shall remain prisoner, his acts are null and void, and the flag is to be hoisted half mast until his discharge.

We have been looking for and expecting a revolution here for a long time, but nothing has taken place, and I think that the opposite party are deficient in courage, as they have let the chance go by, when they should have done so at once.

If the United States does not resent the insult offered to her flag, in the case of the sch. Jefferson, I shall blush for my country's honor. The circumstances of this affair must be too well known to you to need repetition.

Yours, truly, S. W.

The people of Mexico's party (Mexicans) are confined on board of the Ponton.

Extract of a letter, dated
"Post Office, COLUMBUS, GA., June 23, 1836.

Sir: Intelligence was received here late last night, brought by express, that on Sunday morning, the 21st inst., fourteen persons were murdered in Baker county, in this State, by a large body of Indians who were passing through that county on their way to Florida. The place at which these murders were committed is situated between the Flint and Chattahoochee rivers, twenty miles from the former and forty from the latter stream, and one hundred miles south of Columbus. The Indians reached the settlement where the murdered families resided about an hour after sunrise; and an individual who escaped states that he saw the party; that some were mounted, and some on foot, and that he thinks there were three hundred in the band. Governor Schley has ordered a company of mounted men, who were armed here today, to go in pursuit; and Gen. Scott, who is below with a large force, has also, we understand here, taken measures to prevent the escape of these savages to Florida. It is reported here that this party, which is making its way to Florida, crossed the Chattahoochee river on Friday night last. On the morning of that day General Jessup, with a body of mounted men, and some friendly Indians succeeded in capturing a small party of hostiles nine miles from Fort Mitchell; and they stated, after their arrest, that they were attached to the band under Jim Henry, a white man, and that he had Henry had fled on the approach of Gen. Jessup. Henry could not be found, and it is very probable that he immediately collected the hostile Indians who had not surrendered, or been taken, and started for the Seminole country. This is the current opinion here, and is entitled to belief."

From the Georgia Constitutionalist.

ESCAPE OF THE HOSTILE CRECKES.

By the passengers in the stage from from Tallahassee, we learn that on Sunday morning last, between 12 and 1 o'clock, an attack was made upon several families, resident about eight miles from Byron, Baker county, Geo. That the Indians had actually murdered thirteen whites, all women and children, except an old man by the name of Jones, who was also murdered with his family. A young woman who was shot through the breast, pretended to be dead, by which means she escaped. She states the number of Indians to be about 300, including women and children, whom they had with them, as also many pack horses.—They were not more than 3 miles from Flint river, or the main stage road, and the rifles of the Indians were distinctly heard on the west bank of the Flint.—The country in that neighborhood is in great consternation—people living in every direction for security. The small town of Newton is almost entirely deserted, and at Cambridge, where the stage arrived at twelve o'clock at night, the people were under arms. The rumors of the country report two other parties, as being on their way to Florida, by more westerly routes. It was with difficulty the drivers were persuaded to come through, and our informant thinks it more than probable we will have no mail by that route for some weeks.

$60 REWARD.
AN AWAY from the subscriber in Lexington, on Wednesday the 11th inst. A Negro woman named

POLLY,
About 25 years of age, with a complexion, high cheek bones, dull heavy expression of eyes, rather spare, large feet and thick ankles, generally permits her stockings to be down about her ankles, and in conversation, or when using words with the letter a, she sounds it very broad; she was purchased from Mr. Ross of Madison County about three months since.

A reward of $20 will be paid if taken in the county of Fayette, of $30, if out of said county, and if out of the state, the above reward of $60, by delivering her in Lexington or lodging her in any jail so that she may be recovered.

MONTGOMERY LAND For Sale.

HAVING arrived at an age which disables me from undergoing the labor necessary to the proper management of a large farm, I have concluded to offer the FARM on which I now live for sale, lying on Summers creek, about two and a half miles from Mount Sterling, on the Paris road, containing about 500 Acres of first rate LAND, all enclosed except a few acres, and in a high state of cultivation, and well set in Grass, and never-failing stock water on almost every part, even in the greatest droughts. There is on the premises a large and convenient Brick Dwelling House, Brick Negro House, Kitchen, Smoke House; besides all other necessary outbuildings, well arranged in the most convenient and neat manner; and in fact it is considered the best arranged and most convenient situation in the county, and so situated, that it is susceptible of being divided into two very convenient farms.

The terms will be made known by me on the premises, at any time previous to the 15th day of September next; and if not previously sold by that day, will be sold at public sale, to the highest bidder, it being county day, and the day on which the Red River Iron Works will be sold.

TOILETTE SALOON
GEO. W. TUCKER,
 Barber & Fashionable Hair Dresser,
 (Sign of the HIGHLAND COLUMNS, Main street,
 Lexington, Ky., nearly opposite the Phoenix Hotel.)

CONTINUES all branches of the business in his usual fashionable and tasteful style. From his long experience, having made the principles of the TOILETTE an art study, and perfection in its practice his aim, he feels confident, that the most fastidious, will acknowledge themselves gratified with his performance, as being all that they could reasonably desire.

Through his business has much increased since the public have become well acquainted with the comforts he offers, yet gentlemen need not fear that on that account they will be neglected, or obliged to wait, for he has employed competent and obliging aid in every part of the establishment, and gives to the oversight of the whole, his own constant personal attention.

He has just received the latest Philadelphia and New York Fashions for HAIR DRESSING, both for Gentlemen and Young Misses; and to his part of the business will give his particular individual attention.

To the public, especially among his patrons, he would say, that, if desired, he will cut the hair so as to exhibit phenologically the intellectual endowments and moral character.

G. W. T. has just received a large assortment of FANCY ARTICLES, consisting of: Combs, Stocks, Collars, German Pipes, Snuff-boxes, Musical Boxes, (a superior article), Magnetic Fish and Goggles, Soap, finest quality of Hair Brushes, Tooth Washes and Powders, Gentlemen and Ladies' Pocket Books and Pens, Gentlemen and Ladies' Suspenders, a fine assortment of Ladies' Hair Work, Wigs and Top Pieces (assorted colors), fine Razors and Straps, Children's Toys of every description, Teapots, &c., a fine assortment of Playing Cards, Backgammon Boards and Chessmen; also Tapers and Lucifer Matches, some fine Anna Cigars, Cavendish Tobacco and Snuff; Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil, Indian Oil and Indian Dye, for coloring red and grey hairs a beautiful black, without injury to skin or hair; and other articles too numerous to mention.

G. W. T. has a mode of operating upon the head peculiarly his own, which gives an unobscured distinction to those who submit their scalps to thought in his magic manipulations, brightening up the summer evening dullness of the weather, and smoothing the wrinkles on the brow of care. No description can do it justice—it must be tried to be appreciated.

In the rear of the Toilette Saloon the attention of his customers is attracted by the spacious, convenient, beautiful, and luxurious which have given general satisfaction last year, but which have since undergone a thorough repair and improvement; and are now ready to administer cold, warm, tepid, or salt Baths, from 5 o'clock, a. m., to 11 p. m.

In regard to his whole Establishment, he invites the citizens of Lexington and visitors to call and extend the patronage, already so liberally bestowed upon him, for which they shall have his thanks and his best exertions to please.
